

Tim Knight wins the Laucke Par Competition

On a day that promised strong winds and rain, it certainly did just that but not until the small band of fearless golfers had finished their rounds.

Earlier when getting their gear ready before the game there seemed to be this air of silence among the players knowing that anything could happen out on the course and it is these conditions that only the truly faithful accept the challenge without hesitation.

It is pleasing to say that their time was not wasted as they produced some very worthwhile shots giving the players some gratification for their efforts.

The wind did blow and there was a bit of rain but nothing like the deluge that occurred after everyone was safely back at the 19th hole where it was a delight to watch the heavens open and the run of the green lapping up the water.

It was good to see Matt Ward out again representing the football fraternity with the inception of Sunday golf along with young Jack Mosey braving the elements and learning more about the game.

Tim Knight was the clear winner for the day taking on the elements, producing some very satisfying recovery shots and with constant wins in the back nine to finish with +4 for the day. His closest rival being John Mosey with -1 seemed to be using the day honing in on different shot in readiness for next weeks first round of the Club Championship where he will use all his golfing knowledge and ability to stop the old Master Roy Fiegert in season 2011. A feature of Tim's day was his short game but he seemed to relish in the competition and camaraderie that goes with it as each week goes by it is obvious that his confidence grows using a new driver and fairway wood with more distance and accuracy than ever before, obviously also keen to produce his best in the Club Championships.

No one complained about the rain as it is needed to add to the great coverage we have already received earlier in the year which is making it a golf season like never before. There is still work to be done on the 2nd as the big dam is holding water around the scrape but each week that goes by it is improving.

Next weeks game is the first round of the Club Championships so everyone is very welcome and Vice Captain John Mosey has asked that all players be there at 11.30am for a 12 o'clock start. Everyone is very welcome. See you there

Golf tip of the Week: If you are seemingly having a bad run never stop believing in your ability and you will find in any given game it only takes a couple of good shots and the confidence puts you on top of the world: now that's when it becomes all worth while and your game is back on track. Enjoy.
